SEAN T. MCALLISTER, ESQ. is proud to announce the re-launch of his law practice under the name McAllister Law Office, PC (formerly McAllister Garfield, PC). Sean was a pioneer in the cannabis industry (helping draft Amendment 64) and will continue to serve that industry handling rules violation cases and commercial litigation matters.

Going forward, Sean is focused on becoming the leading Colorado attorney for business and regulatory matters in the emerging psychedelic industry. Sean co-authored the Natural Medicine Health Act, Proposition 122, passed by voters in November 2022, which decriminalized four psychedelics and created a pathway for regulated psilocybin therapy. His work with psychedelics includes: advising doctors and therapists on how they can work with psychedelics, defending licensed professionals in DORA disciplinary proceedings related to psychedelics, advising retreat centers and traditional medicine workers how they can operate in the decriminalized area of the law, advising religious groups seeking to use psychedelics as sacraments, obtaining DEA licensure for companies to legally manufacture and research psychedelics, handling basic business start up issues for these entrepreneurs, and eventually working to get these entrepreneurs licensed under state law when Proposition 122 is fully implemented in 2024.

Sean is happy to co-counsel or affiliate with other law firms in the emerging psychedelic space and welcomes any lawyer to reach out to him for a brief overview of the opportunities ahead in this field. Contact Sean at 720-448-6235 or sean@mcallisterlawoffice.com.
